

MAKING SENSE OF AGGRESSION

RICHMOND | WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23 & THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 2019 | 9AM - 4PM
Executive Airport Plaza Hotel Richmond | 7311 Westminster Hwy

One of the foremost interpreters of the developmental approach tackles one of the oldest and most perplexing of human problems, exposing its deep developmental roots and revealing why conventional approaches to the problem are so ineffective. There are many indications that this problem is escalating among our children and youth. What tends to grab our attention is the more violating acts of aggression but what is truly alarming is the ground swell of attacking energy within and between our kids that erupts in their interaction, music, language, play, games and fantasies. This attacking energy is also fueling an alarming increase in suicide and suicidal ideation among children. Dr. Neufeld provides a way of understanding that not only explains what is happening around us but also provides insight into the individuals – both children and adults – who present with these problems. His approach is refreshingly sensible, historically accountable, and congruent with today's science of the brain. His conceptual model has clear implications for practice and treatment and is applicable in any arena: home, school or in treatment.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Uncover the psychological roots of the aggression problem
2. Recognize aggression in its many forms
3. Provide a working model of aggression for purposes of assessment and intervention
4. Learn to 'read' aggression effectively
5. Reveal the role of the limbic system and the prefrontal cortex in aggression

WORKSHOP AGENDA – KEY TOPICS

- Frustration, Attachment & Aggression
 - » a working definition of aggression
- Tears, Temper and Attack
 - » aggression as problem of adaptation
- Handling and Reducing Incidents & Violence
 - » why aggressive behaviour needs to be 'bridged'
- Facilitating Alternate Outcomes to Aggression
 - » shift the focus from aggression to frustration

BULLIES: THEIR MAKING & UNMAKING

RICHMOND | FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 2019 | 9AM - 4PM
Executive Airport Plaza Hotel Richmond | 7311 Westminster Hwy

This workshop is on a
BC PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT DAY

Once we understand how bullies are made, our attempts to unmake them can be truly effective and long-lasting. Most prevailing approaches to this problem assume that bullying is either learned behaviour or the result of failure to acquire social skills. In contrast, Dr. Neufeld dissects the bully syndrome to reveal its deep instinctive roots in the dynamics of attachment and vulnerability. Most attempts to change bullies, or even to teach them a lesson, are not only futile but counterproductive. The reason for this is that most interventions are blind, devoid of an understanding of what makes a bully in the first place. Part of the problem is that the bully is an enigma. There are at least three reasons for this. First of all, very few bullies would identify themselves as such or confess to the act. Secondly, bullies lack self-reflection and so cannot tell us about themselves. Thirdly, the violating nature of the bully's behaviour distracts from the salient issues and underlying dynamics.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Provide a working definition of bullying that will enable participants to recognize the bully dynamic in its myriad manifestations and across a multitude of settings
2. Make sense of the bully from inside out and from a foundation of understanding, to outline the steps required for lasting change
3. Create an understanding of the role of escalating peer orientation and of current parenting practices in fostering the bullying dynamic

WORKSHOP AGENDA – KEY TOPICS

- » How bullies are begotten: the overview
- » Bullying rooted in instinct and emotion
- » Bullying as alpha instincts gone awry
- » The modus operandi of the bully
- » The Bully's Vulnerability Problem
- » The Bully's Attachment Problem
- » Challenges In The Unmaking Of Bullies
