

2 DAY INTENSIVE: SMART BUT SCATTERED

Strengthening Executive Skills to Promote School Success

OAKVILLE | MONDAY, OCTOBER 28 & TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 2019 | 9AM - 4PM

Oakville Conference Centre | 2515 Wyecroft Road

xecutive skills are sometimes called "the hidden curriculum." They are skills such as task initiation, sustained attention, working memory, planning, organization, and goal-directed persistence that are absolutely critical to school success, yet curriculum standards seldom if ever explicitly reference these skills. Neuroscientists now tell us that these skills take a minimum of 25 years to reach full maturation, and the course of that development is influenced by experience and exposure, by modelling, practice, and direct instruction. This workshop will provide participants with a framework for understanding these key skills, how they develop in diverse populations, and how to support executive skills by embedding them into classroom routines and lessons and by tailoring interventions to meet the needs of individual students and classrooms.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- 1. To describe the brain processes involved in executive skill development both in typically developing children and those with executive dysfunction (such as ADHD).
- 2. To identify how executive skills impact school performance and daily living.
- 3. "Best practices" in assessing executive skills, including both formal and informal measures.
- 4. To design interventions for improving executive skills in students, including 1) how to make environmental modifications to support weak executive skills, 2) how to develop protocols for teaching executive skills by embedding them in daily routines and classroom lessons, and 3) how to design student-centered interventions targeted to specific problem situations and executive skill challenges.

POWERFUL & EFFECTIVE STRATEGIES FOR REACHING "I DON'T CARE" & DISENGAGED STUDENTS

OAKVILLE | TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 2019 | 9AM - 4PM

Oakville Conference Centre | 2515 Wyecroft Road

veryone wants to know how to reach their students who are unmotivated, underperforming and claim to not care about school. This innovative seminar will demonstrate successful strategies you can use in your classroom or school to make positive changes in these challenging students. Many of us are frustrated with the numerous students who have "checked out," are disengaged, unmotivated, and underperforming. We know the symptoms, but don't always know the solutions. The good news is that there is hope and there are strategies to begin to stop the cycle of helplessness these students experience. Join behaviour expert, MaryAnn Brittingham, in this one-day seminar that will cover practical ideas, strategies and techniques to help increase your success with these challenging students. She will give you numerous ideas and strategies to help you guide students toward making positive behaviour changes.

Dear Colleague:

As educators, we are under increased pressure to develop a repertoire of behavioural intervention skills that will allow us to meet the needs of all students, including students with serious behavioural problems, even though there is very limited training on what really works. The usual methods, such as sticker charts and emphasis on students' performance to gain rewards or sending students to the principal's office, usually fall flat with "I don't care" and underperforming students. When working with "I don't care" and unmotivated students, it is critical to keep in mind that you cannot change anyone except yourself, but you can assist others to make their own changes. The good news is, with the right help, students can learn and change their behaviour. This seminar will teach you strategies to inspire students to want to change their behaviour.

PEG DAWSON, ED.D., NCSP

Peg Dawson, Ed.D., NCSP, received her doctorate in school/child clinical psychology from the University of Virginia. She worked as a school psychologist for 16 years in Maine and New Hampshire, and since 1992 has worked at the Center for Learning and Attention Disorders in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, where she specializes in the assessment of children and adults with learning and attention disorders. She is the author of numerous articles and book chapters on a variety of topics, including retention, ability grouping, reading disorders, attention disorders, the sleep problems of adolescents, the use of interviews in the assessment process, and homework.

MARYANN BRITTINGHAM, MS

MaryAnn Brittingham, MS, holds a Master's degree in Family and Child Counselling from Long Island University and a Bachelor's degree in Elementary and Special Education from D'Youville College. She has over 35 years of experience as a special education teacher, and child/family counsellor with experience working in psychiatric settings to create therapeutic options for students who require higher levels of emotional and academic support. MaryAnn is a certified trainer at Life Space Crisis Intervention, which uses interactive therapeutic strategies to transform crisis situations into learning opportunities and she teaches graduate level courses in special education and educational psychology at two colleges in New York.
